Certified Coaching Program

The University of Florida Certified Instructional Coaching program offers assistant principals and teacher leaders a powerful, effective strategy to actualize the vision articulated in the Florida Student Success Act (SB 736), which calls for developing highly effective teachers who can raise student achievement.

This comprehensive, tailored, year-long program draws on the latest research and evidence-based practice from the Common Core State Standards, Marzano Framework, Danielson Framework, Next Generation Science Standards, National Research Council, collaborative instructional coaching, digital integration breakthroughs, and the work of noted scholars in education.