Briefly describe the purpose and expected outcomes of the project.
(100 words or fewer)

Project STEEP: Studying Teacher Effectiveness, Education, and Policy is designed to prepare 5 special education PhDs who have the knowledge and skills to conduct rigorous research on educator effectiveness, the knowledge of evidence-based practice in key content areas, and the knowledge and strategies to improve teacher candidates ability to use evidence-based practices in their instruction so that students with disabilities, will be ready for college and careers. Graduates of STEEP will be prepared to work in IHEs to (a) increase the supply of effective special education teachers, and (b) conduct research on the underlying dimensions of educator effectiveness.
Briefly describe how the project's design will:

(a) support the development of products and services,

(b) how those products and services will lead to expected outcomes, and

(c) how the project's performance will be evaluated. (100 words or fewer)

(a) Project STEEP provides rigorous and extensive methodological training, experience conducting educator effectiveness research, and collaboration with researchers and policymakers nationwide to engage in studies designed to improve special educator effectiveness.

(b) As a result, 5 special education Ph.Ds will be prepared to work in IHEs to increase the supply of effective special educators and conduct teacher effectiveness research.

(c) To evaluate the overall effectiveness of the project, program graduates will complete a survey 1 year after graduation to assess the success of the program from their perspective. Graduates will also provide curriculum vitae and report employment status.
