Practice-Based Coaching: Key Components and Lessons Learned from Implementation in Early Learning Contexts

Dr. Snyder will present a practice-based coaching framework she and her colleagues have developed, validated, and evaluated in a series of studies funded by the Institute of Education Sciences from 2007-present. The practice-based coaching (PBC) framework and its key components will be shared along with data that show noteworthy impacts on teachers' and family members' implementation of evidence-based practices. Next steps for research and practical application will be discussed.
