This grant is part of a project with the Veteran's Administration to develop and pilot test a virtual shopping environment for veterans. The virtual environment will be used with a therapist working with veterans with brain trauma/injuries. The College of Education's Collaborative Assessment and Program Evaluation Services (CAPES) will be assessing the effectiveness of the virtual shopping environment for the veterans and as a tool for the therapist to assist the veterans. CAPES was established to support grant funding in the social sciences by providing expertise in evaluation, assessment, and research design.
