

Infant-Toddler/Early Language Development Project for the Florida Grade Level Reading Campaign Administered through the Florida Children's Council

The Lastinger Center for Learning will assist with development of the Florida Grade Level Reading Campaign (FGLRC) Early Language and Literacy Project. This includes informing FGLRC implementation and customization of project elements, developing Infant/Toddler Language Development presentations and/or print materials for practitioners and parents, and informing FGLRC implementation of supports for health care, early learning practitioners, and parents. In addition, the Lastinger Center will assist FGLRC in integrating UF's professional development framework to the FGLRC teacher communities.
