

Equity and Effectiveness of State Higher Education Funding Policies

Dr. Ortagus will lead the data collection efforts and corresponding analyses for the community college funding aspect of the project. He will also contribute equally to the aspects of the project related to rapid responses to COVID-19 (e.g., webinars, policy briefs), state funding formula data, and state financial aid data. Each aspect of the project will include data collection, policy briefs, academic papers, and dissemination to policymakers, researchers, and members of the media. The University of Florida component will include one year of a graduate research assistant, who will help with data collection, descriptive analyses, and reviews of prior literature on related topic areas.