

Casting Call

Don't miss your chance to be a star!

The Lastinger Center for Learning and the Digital Worlds Institute are looking for video guides to appear in an online professional development course. Applicants will audition for a role, and those chosen will receive payment for a one-week commitment (approximately 40 hours) to film at the Digital Worlds Institute.

In order to apply, please send an e-mail to Pam Chalfant (please CC Brett Pokorny) by Friday, January 23, 2015:

pchalfant@coe.ufl.edu

bpokorny1@ufl.edu

Application should include your expressed interest in auditioning for a video guide role. If possible, a recent photograph would be desirable, as well as mention of any previous experience on camera and/or with a teleprompter. Please title your message "Early Learning Florida – Guide Audition."

Auditions are by appointment only. They will be held on Tuesday, January 27th, 2015, and will be approximately 15 minutes per appointment. For those who cannot audition on January 27th, an alternate date may be discussed.

The Lastinger Center for Learning can be found in New Norman Hall. The Digital Worlds Institute is in Norman Gym.
